

Gumala Aboriginal Corporation

Karijini Eco Retreat is proudly owned by Gumala Enterprises Pty Ltd (GEPL), the business arm of the Gumala Aboriginal Corporation (GAC). GAC is one of Australia's largest 100% Traditionally Owned organisations, representing the Banjima, Yinhawangka, and Nyiyaparli people of the Pilbara region in Western Australia.

Gumala's mission is deeply rooted in supporting Indigenous communities through a range of impactful initiatives. These efforts include member programs and community projects that are designed to empower the Traditional Owners.

For instance, GAC allocates funds to education and training programs, cultural preservation projects, and community infrastructure investments. These initiatives not only enhance the well-being and self-sufficiency of Indigenous communities but also foster cultural heritage and create sustainable economic opportunities.

When you choose to stay at the Karijini Eco Retreat, you are contributing to the economic, social, and community development of the Traditional Owners. Your support helps fund programs and projects that make a meaningful difference in the lives of the Banjima, Yinhawangka, and Nyiyaparli people.
